

The Vulture

Investigation in Paris under Napoleon

“Travels in Time”

A collection of educational adventure games covering history and heritage.

“ Beautiful graphics and engaging plots. Many schools or parents might want to buy them.”

Based on the French 4th year (equivalent to year 8 in England and Wales) studies of the 19th Empire, a 160 page encyclopaedia helps the player to carry out their investigation. Scientific committee: Bernard Chevallier, Curator of the Château de la Malmaison and Vice President of the Napoleon Foundation, and Pascal Monnet, Deputy Administrator of the Panthéon and the Arc de Triomphe in Paris.

The rascal Du Noï is on the loose in Napoleon’s Paris. How can he be stopped in time? With Oscar, it’s time for action in the streets and monuments of Paris in 1809: the Carrousel du Louvre, the Rue de Rivoli, the Vendôme column, the Invalides, the Château de la Malmaison, Saint-Cloud...

Look out for Fouché and Schulmeister... Luckily, the dragoon officer, the lady at court, the Parisian street urchin and even Napoleon are on your side.

Infiltrate a secret society and catch Du Noï on a scaffold or in a carriage race! Throw the people following you off the scent, let the cannon roar, defuse bombs... in time!

Confront a blinkered policeman, solve puzzles, secret messages, have fun watching...
In a single sentence, Gadzooks, prove your cunning, sense of humour, skill and logic...

Meet Napoleon and Experience the French empire!

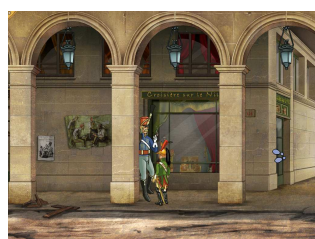

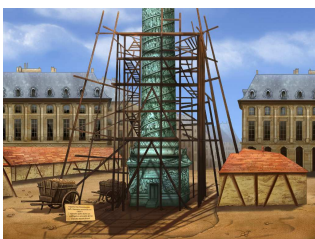

Produced with CNC / French Ministry of Culture & European Commission.

- More than 10 hours of play winding through a captivating investigation twinged with humour
- 11 original and varied short games: wagon race, verbal joust, labyrinths, secret messages to decode, sabre or cannon combats, games of logic
- More than 20 notable characters from the Napoleonic period
- A dozen recreated streets and monuments, true to the originals from 1809
- Exceptional graphic qualities created by illustrators specialised in the youth segment

Street Level Price : 20 £ - PC & Mac

Contact : Maud de la Forterie - + 33 (0)1 46 99 07 76 – mdelaforterie@gmail.com - www.nemopolis.fr
Nemopolis – 60 bis, rue de Bellevue, 92 100 Boulogne-Billancourt, France